OUR PRINCIPAL REV. BRO. EUGENE F.S.C.

I am glad to see that the 1987/88 School Magazine is ready to go to the press.

Congratulations and thank you to all those who have made this possible — the editors, photographers, proof readers, art designers and teacher advisors. Many thanks also to all the parents, Old Boys for their support and also our advertizers.

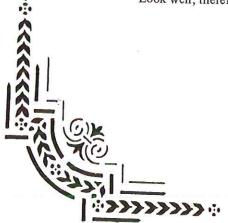

A THOUGHT - TODAY

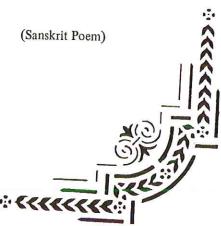

Look to this day, for it is life, the very life of life.

In its brief course lie all the realities and truth of existence — the joy of growth, the splendour of action, the glory of power. For yesterday is but a memory, and tomorrow is only a vision, But today well lived

Makes every yesterday a memory of happiness and every tomorrow a vision of hope.

Look well, therefore, to this day.

FOREWORD

Being the Chief Editor is not as easy as I had thought: planning of contents, drafting of pages, checking of articles and so on have made me and other editors feel the heavy workload of the school magazine. However, I think it is my fortune that I have the opportunity to take this job because I have learned to pull myself up by my bootstraps and see it through. I sincerely hope that, through our efforts, this year's school magazine is more than an enumeration of the clubs that exist and the activities that take place in the school.

The Editorial Board have the ambition to have all the articles well-packaged and to reduce the rigidity and monotony of the magazine. In order to achieve this aim, we have tried our best to improve the presentation and arrangement of the articles and photographs. You can see that quotations have been inserted into the front page of each section. Moreover, the number of artwork designs have increased significantly.

Undoubtedly, the content of the school magazine is the most important of all. This year, we have cut down the number of pages of Club Reports so as to leave more space for other contents. In many people's eyes, the life of the Brothers seems to be a secret. Therefore, we dared to interview the three La Salle Brothers in our school — Brother Eugene, our Principal, Brother Francis, our Vice-principal and Brother Hyacinth. We hope that, after reading through these interviews, C.S.K. students can have a deeper understanding of the Brothers. Besides, other articles such as interview with Lee Chung Yan — an outstanding student of C.S.K. and D.E.A. gold medal winner telling about his experiences have also been included. We believe that the content will surely meet your needs.

Owing to the lack of experience and competence, we have inevitably made many mistakes. However, one who never makes mistakes never makes anything. We will greatly appreciate it if the errors are generously over looked.

Finally, I would like to give my whole-hearted thanks to the Principal and the teachers-in-charge for they have given us invaluable advice and support. Furthermore, the success of the school magazine should also be shared by the art designers, photographers, advertisers and benefactors for they have contributed a lot to the magazine.

Head Prefect's Message

We often hear our teachers say, 'You should not just be interested in studies but participate in more extracurricular activities.' Though you may hear it more than a hundred times, how much do you understand it?

Life is a process of development. It is school life that helps youth to develop their personality, responsibility and leadership. Then, how can this be achieved? By studying textbooks alone you will never reach this goal. Take part in extra-curricular activities. This is the only way in which you can learn how to communicate and co-operate with others. You gain more through active participation than by what textbooks can offer you; I assure you it is worthwhile.

I am glad to say that C.S.K. boys' performance in public examinations has been good in recent years. However, the less enthusiastic participation in various extra-curricular activities this academic year makes us feel a little bit disappointed. It is a fact that good academic results will help you to attain your objectives more easily in the future. But one should not neglect the more important factors like sociability, responsibility, and leadership. How can one carry the heavy burden in the future without these qualities, which are essential for a well-developed character?

There are about forty clubs and societies in the school. It is meaningless for the committee members of these clubs and societies to organize any activities if they do not get your support and participation. For most people, secondary school life is the best time of their lives. It is through such activities that we can build up friendship.

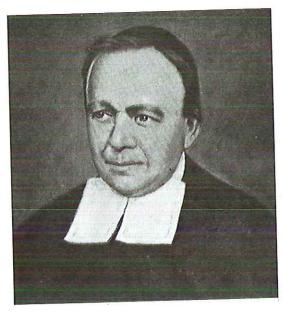

So, be more active in school function and other extra-curricular activities.

Finally, I would like to express my heartfelt thanks to Bro. Eugene, the teachers and my fellow school-mates for supporting the Prefectorial Board.

Lam Chan-kei, 6A Head Prefect

BIOGRAPHY OF BLESSED BROTHER ARNOLD, F.S.C.

Nicholas Jules Reche, the future Brother Arnold, was born on 2 September, 1838 in Landroff, France, and was baptised on the same day. Until the age of 24, all his experiences were rather matter-of-fact. The son of the shoemaker of the village, Jules was the eldest of five brothers and three sisters. He attended the village school but had to quit at the age of ten in order to work on the farm. He had to help his father, a very pious and religious man, to feed the large family which a depressed mother often abandoned to wander around the countryside. As a farmhand until the age of 20, he engaged in agricultural activities which changed according to the season. Life was hard at that time in the village which lacked all comforts where everything was done with human strength helped by the harnessed horses and oxen: plowing, planting, harvesting of crops and picking of grapes, and cutting and hauling wood. Jules nevertheless loved this work. If he quit the farm in 1858 to become a coachman it was only to earn more money to better support the needs of his poor family. For a few months he was a daily worker to avoid unemployment.

Blessed Brother Arnold, F.S.C. (Nicholas-Jules Reche) 1838-1890 Beatified, 1st Nov. 1987.

Then he found work as a driver of a cart hauling materials during the reconstruction of the Church of Charleville. He treated his four horses as friends and divided his free time among prayer, preparing young chimney sweepers for their first Holy Communion and taking evening lessons in the Brothers' school.

After a long time he believed that he heard the call of God to enter His service. The Brother Provincial remarked the fine qualities of the young men who attended the Sunday evening classes and so he asked Jules, "What are you doing here, young man?" This set Jules thinking, "What am I doing?" And so on 13 November, 1862, at the age of 24, he entered the Novitiate.

A year later, Brother Arnold began the second period of his existence: that of a religious teacher. This period had two phases: 14 years as teacher in the boarding school of St. Joseph in Rheims and 12 years in exercising the delicate mission of formator of future religious.

Contrary to all expectations, this man who had quit school at the age of ten was going to become one of the best teachers of a flourishing school.

The many letters he wrote and the many which those who had lived with him or knew him are still extant and they bear testimony to Brother Arnold's sanctity and common sense, and love of God and his family members and the Brothers who came in contact with him. He was often called to preside over the retreats of the Brothers and so exercised great influence for good over a great number of Brothers.

Brother Arnold's health deteriorated in the summer of 1890. He suffered from congestion of the lungs.

On 23 October 1890, Brother Arnold got up as usual for Prayers, Mass and breakfast. But he took very ill and had to be taken to his bed room. At 6:30 p.m. after having been anointed with holy oils, Brother Arnold died, at the age of 52.

Bother Arnold left behind memories of a holy life, a life filled with hard work and penance. Many miracles are attributed to his intercession: the one examined by the Church for beatification was the sudden and permanent cure of an old lady of 77 who had cancer and paralysis. She was completely cured as testified by the doctors and died at 88 from old age.

Eternal Values

Miss Tehmi

In life we come across people who have lasting impression on us. They seem to touch our lives. A chance remark, or an introduction to some ideas awakens us. These ideas are consciously or unconsciously implanted in our mind, like good seeds sown in the soil. With careful cultivation, they will grow and bear sweet fruits. Once I was shown a short poem, which began with, the rhetorical question, "Who am I?"

If I were to put the same question to you, the answer would vary. "I am a boy." "I am Spencer Chan." C.S.K. is a Boy's School. We all know that you are boys and you are here to study.

But let us cross over to the complexity from simplicity. "Why are we here in this world?" The answer is to serve the purpose, to fit in the plan.

This leads to the third question — "what good can I do?" Many of us ask these questions. Very often faces of starving men, women and children haunt us. We see their faces on the screen of television, pages of the magazines. We lament, at our inability to do something about it. We feel frustrated. Yes, I do agree we do not have money to help them. We leave that to philanthropists. Let them contribute, and their pictures taken for the newspapers and magazines. We are simple practical minded people. In fact, we are awakened to the cries of those who suffer, but our inability to reach out to them leads to frustration.

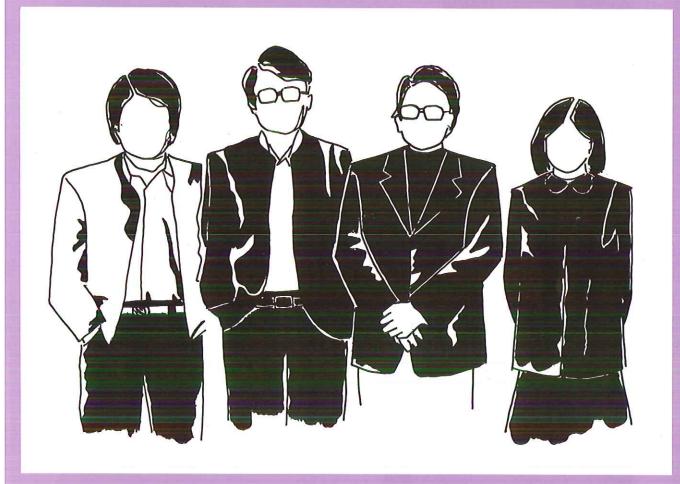

Let the idea "what good can I do?" grow. It will develop into a grand old tree which will definitely bear fruits. There are numerous ways in which we all can help, like visiting the lonely, the aged, helping the blind, helping parents, teachers to carry books, not grabbing the taxi and jumping into it, thereby ignoring old people who have been waiting, but cannot compete in the game of musical chair. Look around you, and look up to senior students who every afternoon sacrifice their time to help you with your studies. After receiving help, the junior students should not forget. Once they reach the level of helping others, they should continue, so the torch of knowledge and civilization burns eternally. Results are not often apparent, we can be in truth assured that the work is not in vain.

By concentrating on this concept, you will not reap the financial harvest but emotional and spiritual, I assure you.

I sum up by expressing my feelings. I am proud of students who help one another and I am proud to be the part of this. While gazing through the mist of my life, the beauty of C.S.K. life appears and shines.

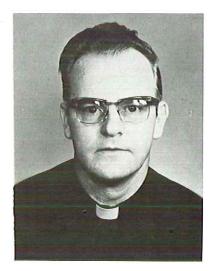

"Good needeth not to enter into the soul, for it is there already, only it is unperceived."

SPORTS REPORT

A season of mixed fortunes is probably the best way of summarising our nineteenth year in sports. For the first time in over two years we were able to use the playground and tuck shop ping-pong tables throughout the whole year — the workmen have finally gone. However, the hall is no longer available during P.E. lessons because of remedial classes and our badminton has suffered as a result.

We had the usual inter class competitions in all sports during the year with the Athletics finals held at Kowloon Bay sports ground on what was one of the coldest days ever. It is regrettable to report that participation in some sports, particularly cross country, swimming and, to a lesser extent, athletics, has fallen considerable. This is especially true for B and A grades.

The two year drought at inter school level was finally ended this year when the B grade basketball team won the Div II league to bring home the trophy. The A team were not so lucky and had to be content with third place medals. A weak C grade team did not help the overall standings and we finished third and will have to remain in Div II for another season. Four talented swimmers managed to pick up seven medals between them in C grade as well as the runners-up banner, but unfortunately, poor results from both A and B kept us down in overall eight place in Div II. In Div I football we improved considerably and finished fourth overall. The C graders produced the best result when they were runners-up to La Salle, B grade should have been third, but results were amended following the withdrawal of Po Chiu and we found ourselves in fourth place on goal difference. Our A team was weakened when some former players refused to join the team and consequently we finished second last.

Our results in all the other sports were rather disappointing in that we dropped on last years results. Athletics, despite a good start, fell from fifth to ninth overall, while cross country slipped to fifth place. Both B and C volleyball teams finished fourth in the first round and failed to make the finals. Finally, we come to table tennis and the loss of the tuck shop tables last year left us with untrained teams and we were relegated to Div III.

In conclusion, congratulations and thanks to the boys and staff who worked hard and did well in competitions. Let us look forward to next season, our twentieth, and hope that there will be more participation and less selfishness on the part of CSK boys.

Interviews

Conversation is the vent of character as well as of thought.

The De La Salle Brothers

As we all know, Chan Sui Ki (La Salle) College belongs to the De La Salle Brothers and Brother Eugene, our Principal; Brother Francis, our Vice-principal; and Brother Hyacinth are the three Brothers in our school. The Editorial Board have had the pleasure of having interviews with all three of them. We hope that, through these interviews, the students can know more about the Brothers' life and that of the De La Salle Brothers generally. Before we go through the interviews, let us have a look at the origin of the De La Salle Brothers.

The De La Salle Brothers, usually known as the Brothers of the Christian Schools (FSC being their initials in Latin), are a group of religious men working in education. This religious Order goes back 308 years to the poor in the streets of the city of Rheims in France and to a man named John Baptist De La Salle.

De La Salle was from a well-to-do family. He was trained to be a priest and was eventually ordained at the age of 29. After his ordination, he continued the work of Nicholas Roland, to whom he was spiritual director, and who had organised a group of Sisters to teach the children of the poor people. De La Salle then began to open schools for the poor boys of Rheims.

Soon afterwards there was a famine and De La Salle decided to spend all his personal wealth to feed the poor and dedicate his life completely to providing education for the children of the poor. He moved in with the group of teachers he was guiding and lived simply as one of them. Thus was founded the body of teachers we know today as the De La Salle Brothers.

An interview with Our Principal – Bro. Eugene

(E = Editor, B = Brother)

- E: Can you tell us about your background?
- B: I was born in Ireland, in a place called County Donegal. I studied in Ireland and then in London. Afterwards I came out to Singapore by troop ship in 1947, where I taught in St. Anthony's College for about six months. Next I was transferred to Ipoh in Perak, Malaya, and I stayed there until 12th December, 1952. After that I went on leave and came to Hong Kong in August, 1953. Here I taught in La Salle College in Perth Street, starting in F.2C, and in the following years F.3C, 4C, 5C. In 1959, we went back to the real La Salle College from the wooden huts in Perth Street. And I've been teaching in F.5, 6 and 7 till 1969, when this school was opened, and I was sent over here. I taught in F.5 and F.6 in April, 1970, I was appointed as principal and supervisor of this school.
- E: How about your family?
- B: There are members of my family scattered throughout the world, some in England, one is in Scotland, one is in Calgary and one is in Sydney.
- E: Why did you become a Brother?
- B: That is a long story. Probably because of the fact that the Brothers are a teaching organization. And the organization is founded for the purpose of giving free education to the poor. After all, serve God through service to students, for this is a religious organization.
- E: What kinds of training and character must a person have in order to become a Brother?
- B: Several kinds of training are involved. At the beginning, there is a period of trial when you start living this kind of life a life of prayer and study, to find out whether you are suited for this way of life. You will have a whole year particularly devoted to the study of the religious life and to the study of prayer meditation. At this time you continue to live a very organized life. After you have attained your professional qualifications, you are introduced to the life of teaching.

 In the case of character, you need a strong religious attitude. Also you must be physically reasonably fit so as to stand up to the rigours of life. Moreover, you must be reasonably intelligent or you won't be able to qualify.
- E: What is the work of a C.S.K. Principal?
- B: Administration mostly. Employment and deployment of members of the staff every year while the allocation of work has to be arranged in a fairly equitable distribution. Syllabuses have to be prepared and subjects chosen. I have to charge people with various kinds of tasks and school activities, such as the disciplinary board, interschool athletics, teacher representatives (who meet with me and other Brothers on a regular basis). Finally, I have to keep records of all these things and the daily life of this school, together with books of account of income and expenditure.

- E: How do you find C.S.K. students? Anything to be improved?
- B: Very much like any other students. Generally speaking, C.S.K. has a rather good reputation but there is always room for improvement.
- E: Can you give any valuable experience in teaching?
- B: I think it is a difficult question. If you haven't got the proper atmosphere, then there will be no teaching done and no studying either. You can't have everybody in the class talking at the same time and nobody listening. You can't have a P.E. lesson going along downstairs while everybody is shouting and nobody in the classrooms can hear what's going on. So the most important aspect of teaching is to maintain an atmosphere which is conducive to learning.
- E: What are your main income and expenditure?
- B: My income is my salary based on the standard master pay scale set by the Education Department. My expenditure is mainly on food, clothes, medical expenses, rates and general maintenance of our residence together with our contribution towards the running of the Institute. Please remember that as members of a religious Institute, all the Brothers have vows of poverty; salaries belong to the Organization and not to individual Brothers.
- E: Where do you have your daily meals? How about your lodging?
- B: In our dining room upstairs on the sixth floor. We have our own quarters. There are four bedrooms, one dining room, one sitting room and one kitchen. And we have our own cook. You may see him every day around half past ten, when he goes upstairs and then downstairs and goes shopping. He has his own quarters on the ground floor beside the entrance to the lift. On Saturday, Bro. Francis, Bro. Hyacinth and I usually go to La Salle for dinner, just to meet with other Brothers and talk to them.
- E: Can you tell us something about your leisure activities?
- B: In recent years, I mostly read and go for a stroll, talking with students and with the other Brothers. Many years ago I used to spend plenty of time in games and sports.
- E: Have you learned any Chinese or Cantonese since you came to Hong Kong?
- B: Not very much.
- E: What have you gained as a De La Salle Brother, in conclusion?
- B: I have a satisfying life. Not just for myself, but for almost all the people that I've been working for since 1947.
- E: Can you suggest a motto to us?
- B: Try: "To strive, to seek, to find, but not to yield."

- Ulysses -

An interview with Bro. Francis

(E = Editor, B = Brother)

- E: How long have you been in C.S.K.?
- B: I have been in Hong Kong 12 years, 7 of those have been spent in C.S.K.
- E: Why and how did you become our vice-principal?
- B: We are usually appointed by our Higher Superiors. Bro. Raphael is our Superior in Hong Kong and I was sent to C.S.K. as V.P. by him.
- E: What is your responsibility as our vice-principal?
- B: As Vice-Principal I am obliged to replace Bro. Eugene in his absence as Principal and Supervisor especially when he goes on holidays, or whenever he is sick or unable to be in school. I have also to keep myself updated on the various Circulars that come from the Department of Education. I have also got to sign all the various documents and cheques as well as Bro. Eugene as the Department requires Two signatures.
- E: How do you find this post and is the workload heavy for you?
- B: The only time it is a bit heavy is when school is in session as it is very difficult to do justice to two jobs at the same time, i.e. be Principal and be in class.
- E: As our vice-principal, what type of discipline, strict, mild or loose, do you believe is the most effective one? Why?
- B: I firmly believe in Strict but Fair discipline. Why? Because a school which has no or poor discipline should not be called a school. If there is no discipline or if the discipline is poor no serious work can be done. I do not suffer fools gladly. I hold a detention class every Saturday morning from 8:45 to 11:45. I also give detention in the afternoons from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. if I judge it necessary. I think that when students know exactly where they stand with a teacher and what exactly they are being punished for and when it is accompanied with a full explanation they accept it.
- E: Are the disciplinary policies in C.S.K. sufficient and effective?
- B: The disciplinary policies at C.S.K. are sufficient but are not always effective for a number of reasons, some Prefects are afraid to pull up their classmates and even some teachers are lax in those areas perhaps it may be that they are looking for cheap popularity or for some other reason.
- E: Is there anything to be improved on matters of discipline in C.S.K.?
- B: There is always room for improvement. Prefects for example could take their responsibilities more seriously. Furthermore Teachers should not allow more then one student at a time out to the toilet especially during class time. I have seen students run in and out of class in fours and fives, one gets the impression that they have little or no interest in what their teacher is doing or that the lessons are boring.

These boys fool around and even stand around watching the P.E. lessons and are in no hurry back to class. It is a reflection on the teachers themselves.

- E: How about teaching students to be self-disciplined?
- B: Self discipline is not easy to cultivate as human nature is weak and when a little stimulus is offered in this manner and especially if it hurts it is not always appreciated.
- E: Do you have any remarks to C.S.K. students on matters of discipline?
- B: Yes, students should think a little more before acting and realize that they are responsible for all their actions. They should do their best at all times to act in a way befitting a C.S.K. student. Whatever is worth doing is worth doing well. So students should do their best whether it is at study, sport or any other activity.
- E: Which subjects did you study in university?
- B: I first of all was trained as a National Teacher then I studied English, History and Irish for my degree at University College Dublin. I then did my H.Dip. in St. Patrick's University Mynooth. Afterwards I studied Philosophy, Theology and Catechetics at U.C.D.
- E: You are well known as an excellent tennis player, so please tell us something about your sports-life.
- B: I used to play a lot of sport when I was at college and at University. However I am not getting any younger so I have to curtail my sports activities now.
- E: Do you apply your sportsmanship in teaching P.E. in C.S.K.?
- B: I regard P.E. as a lesson not just a game. The Education Department takes this subject seriously; that is why they send their inspectors around to schools to see if it is being taught properly.
- E: Do you have any expectation on C.S.K. students in their P.E. lesson?
- B: My expectations for students during their P.E. lessons is that they take it seriously. I often see students wearing their school blazer or cardigan during this lesson. Personally I think that if students cannot get warm enough during that lesson there is something radically wrong with the lesson.
- E: Do you think P.E. lesson is necessary for students of all forms?
- B: It must be if the Education Department attaches such importance to it. In such a crowded area as Hong Kong it has an added importance.
- E: Is there any special meaning in giving exercises to students on P.E. lessons?
- B: Exercises are an important part of P.E. Throwing a ball to students and letting them do their own thing is not P.E. Exercises are geared to exercise the various parts of the body.

- E: What kind of training did you undergo in order to become a De La Salle brother?
- B: I had 9 years training besides my professional training before I stood in the classroom to teach.
- E: Do you hold any post in De La Salle Brothers' Society and what is your responsibility?
- B: Besides being Deputy Principal I am also on the management board of C.S.K. I am also on the management board of two of our Primary schools. I am also Director of C.S.K. Community. I am also a member of our Area Council.
- E: How do you find C.S.K. students?
- B: In general C.S.K. students are well behaved and hard-working. There are always the exceptions.
- E: Do you have any advice and instruction to the students?
- B: My advice to C.S.K. students is for them to keep striving to even greater heights whether it be in study or sport always to put their hearts into whatever they are doing. Never give up and never get discouraged.

An interview with Bro. Hyacinth

(E = Editor, B = Brother)

- E: Where were you born and how many members do your family consist?
- B: I was born in Ireland and I am one of a family of five children.
- E: Had you taught in other schools before you taught in C.S.K.?
- B: I volunteered to teach in the Far East and taught in West Malaysia and Sarawak before coming to Hong Kong.
- E: What is your view on C.S.K. students?
- B: I enjoy teaching in C.S.K. and find the students generally to be mature, industrious and well-behaved.
- E: What is your relationship with friends, other brothers and students?
- B: I try to get on with everybody with whom I have dealings. Teamwork is important in life and this requires all of us to cooperate as best we can.
- E: You seem to be an optimistic person from your appearance. How do you find the life as a brother?
- B: I enjoy being a brother. It gives me the opportunity of co-operating with all the Brothers in the De La Salle Order in the great work of helping young people to develop and mature.

An interview with Lee Chung Yan An Outstanding Student of C.S.K.

Lee Chung Yan, a Form six student, is a very active but studious student. During the past three years, he has been working for the Hong Kong Young Christian Student Movement (YCS). In this academic year, he was invited by the Australian YCS to attend their conferences in early January.

- E: How were you selected as the representative of Hong Kong YCS to attend the conferences?
- L: Before I answer your question, let me tell you something about YCS. It is an international movement which has its head-quarters in Paris. Besides, it has secretariates in different continents which deal with the YCS of the countries in their own continent. There's an Asian Secretariate which is now in Hong Kong. Being one of the EXCO of the Hong Kong YCS Team, I have to work closely with the Asian Team members. When the Asian Team was invited by the Australian Team to attend their conferences, they invited me in turn. This is how I was chosen to attend the conferences.
- E: Was there anyone to go along with you?
- L: Oh yes, there were also a YCS fulltimer from Singapore and a priest from India who went along with me. We all represented d

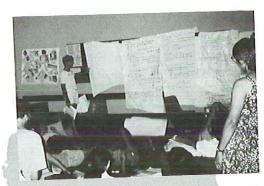

With the Singaporean girl, the Chaplain of the Asian Team, and the Indian priest.

- who went along with me. We all represented different regions in Asia: East Asia, Southeast Asia and South Asia.
- E: What was the nature of the conferences?
- L: In fact, I attended two different conferences. The National Council, which was held by the Tertiary Australian YCS, is held once in two years whereby representatives of YCS in universities, polytechnics and higher institutes from all the States in Australia come together to share and evaluate their experiences. This year, it was held in Melbourne. Another conference, the National Conference, was held by the Secondary Australian YCS. It is held once in three or four years and the participants came from secondary schools. The nature of this conference is more or less the same as the National Council. It was held in Adelaide. They are the highest decision-making bodies of the YCS in Australia and will also set out its orientation and plans.
- E: How is the relationship between the Asian and Australian YCS?

- L: The close collaboration between the two continents have been fruitful through the exchange programmes like the one I have taken part in. It was found that students gain a good experience and better insight of themselves and what they are doing through meeting with their fellow young students in Australia. Therefore, both Teams supported and encouraged this experience of exchange very much. Moreover, this year Australia celebrates the bicentennial of the Aboriginal people and Tertiary YCS celebrates its first decade. On these two occasions, we were invited to be with them.
 - E: Was it hard to stay with people from other countries?
 - L: A little bit. When I first met them, I found it very difficult to get familiar with them. However, they were very open-minded and friendly, I made friends with them very soon. Some of them loved to make jokes. Perhaps they knew I couldn't understand what they were saying, I became the target of their jokes, but I felt happy to stay with them.

- E: How did you spend your leisure time?
- L: Most of my leisure time was spent on sleeping because we had meetings from eight in the morning to ten at night every day. Once I had time, I would spend time to rest. However, when I had a whole day off, I went to the town to go shopping and take photographs with my friends.
- E: Can you tell us something interesting during the trip?
- L: Oh yes, I remember that when I was on the plane on the way to Australia, a man sitting in front of me asked me for some tablets for headache, but I couldn't understand what he said because he was speaking in Spanish. Since he didn't understand English, I made an effort to 'talk' with him by sign language. Luckily, a lady beside me talked to him and finally I knew what he asked for.
- E: Do you think that the trip is worthwhile?
- L: Certainly, it was worthwhile. It was an experience of learning for me through a life experience and deepened and enhanced my formal education, adding new dimensions of education. Moreover, I have made new friends overseas and, of course, I have improved my English.
- E: Thank you very much for your interview.

An interview with a C.S.K. violinist—Leung Wing Chung

On the afternoon of February the 15th, Leung Wing Chung (a F.2 C.S.K. student), being applauded and awarded in the 40th Hong Kong Schools Music And Speech Festival, won the violin solo junior champion honourably. Afterwards, the editorial board had a pleasant interview with him:

- * When and how did you start playing the violin?

 I was eager to learn when I was young. But I couldn't because of high tuition fee. After I joined the choir in primary five, my teacher suggested that I learn to play the violin under the Music Office String Orchestra (MOSO). Not only did my parents encourage me but they also bought me a violin.
- How did you take part in the contest?
 A teacher from MOSO helped me make an application for the contest.
- * How about the situation?

 There were twenty-eight competitors and all markers were foreigners on that day. Sicilienne by M. von Paradis was the test piece for the violin solo competition. However, my opponents were very talented. Some even had been taught in the Arts Centre by a famous Japanese violinist. This made me feel a little despair.
- * How did you feel at the instant of your winning announcement?

 Surprised! So happy was I that I wished to express my gratitude to my teacher for his help. It was him who taught me earnestly. And it was him who gave me opportunities to play the violin in front of thousands of people.
- Why do you think you won?
 Playing music with profound emotion and showing good proficiency in the playing.
- * Could you tell us about any other musical performance that you have experienced? Yes. During the 10th anniversary of the founding of MOSO, I played a violin solo before a large band. This was the most unforgettable performance I've ever had.

- * By the way, how about your training?

 I have a one-hour lesson every week and a half-hour practice every day.
- * Are all these beneficial?

 Of course! The violin made me more selfconfident and relaxed. In the case of a music contest, I gained a lot of experience from competing with others.
- * Just one more question. What are your prospects on this subject?

 Perhaps I'll join the amateurs. I also expect to attain the eighth level of skill before studying in F.5. So that I can study overseas upon the scholarship sponsored by MOSO. If I have spare time, probably I'll learn to play the piano as well!

Students Guidance Team "Keep C.S.K. Clean" Slogan Competition

Aim of the competition:

To arouse the interest of C.S.K. students in keeping the school campus clean.

Duration: 21st March - 29th April, 1988

First of all, three students from 6B were recruited to help organize the competition:

LAM Chi-leung KWOK Shi-chung LO Wing-chung

Lo Wing-chung, Lam Chi-leung, Kwok Shi-chung

Furthermore, we had more than ten boys from 3E to help coordinating the competition.

In the week bofore the Easter Holiday, we revealed the details of the competition bit by bit everyday by means of posters. Consequently, many students went to look at the posters day after day.

As 'Keep C.S.K. Clean' is the responsibility of every CSK boy, students from all forms were invited to create their own slogans within a limit of 20 Chinese characters. The collection of the slogans was scheduled to be after the Easter Holiday so that students would have sufficient time to try their best in creating their slogans.

Within the two days after the Easter Holiday, we collected the slogans written down by students of all forms with the assistance of class prefects. We were surprised by the enthusiasm of CSK boys when we found that more than 600 boys had written down their slogans. This was really encouraging to our teacher advisors and to the three F.6 organizers.

All these were followed by the selection of better slogans from the 600 slogans collected. This selection was done by the three teachers from the Students Guidance Team, Mr. P.C. Hong, Mr. C.K. Lam, Mrs. C. Ng. In fact the selection was really a difficult task for them because, as they said, the standards of the slogans were quite high.

The slogans selected were then painted by their creators. Then, the winners of the competition were chosen from these colourful paintings.

The judges for the competition were:

Mrs. C. Ng Mr. P.C. Hong Mr. C.K. Lam Miss O.M. Lo

Teachers of the Student Guidance Team

(Honorary judge)

The winners for each section are as follows:

Our judges made the decisions after serious thought.

The prize-giving for the competition was conducted by our Principal, Bro. Eugene, on 29th April, 1988.

Finally, we strongly believe that, after most of you have been creating your own slogans, all of you will now have the idea that 'Keep CSK Clean' is your duty.

A visit to the Governor's House — DEA Gold Award Presentation Ceremony

Place: The Governor's House Date: Monday July 6, 1987 Time: 6:00pm-7:00pm

At 6:00pm, we stepped into the most honourable place in Hong Kong — the Governor's House. The decoration of the corridor is quite luxurious and Westernised. On the wall are hung the photographs of Governors from previous years. To my surprise, no seats were provided insides the assembly hall. All the guests were standing. Our recipients were lined up neatly at the right hand side of the hall. The press was ready beside the presentation stage.

Ten minutes later, the Governor — Sir David Wilson — entered the assembly hall. Afterwards, the opening remarks were given by Mr. J.P. Lee, chairman of the Duke of Edinburgh's Award marked the beginning of the ceremony. His voice was loud enough so that an amplifier was not required. Then the highlight of the ceremony — presentation of the certificates began. I was the thirtieth recipient to receive the certificate from the Governor. It was an unforgettable moment for me. The Governor also asked me about the badge on my school uniform. I told him that it was our school 'Chan Sui Ki College' blazer badge. After the certificate presentation, all the recipients had a group photo with the Governor.

Then we had our reception in the assembly hall. These included fruit juice, champaign, sandwiches and various kinds of Chinese dim sum. I asked one of the waiters about the food but he just gave me a smile. Then I walked around the assembly hall which was the only place in the Governor's House where we were allowed to visit. I met many Exco and Legco members who often appear on television (e.g. Maria Tam). The tight security was another feature I found that surprised me. Some secret police were keeping a close watch as no commercial activities were allowed (e.g. promotion by name cards). Photographs taking was prohibited except with permission. Also, I had a talk with the high ranking officials from the Education Department. About 6:45pm, all the guests and recipients left the hall and the ceremony ended.

The Duke of Edinburgh's Award has been introduced into Hong Kong for 26 years. This year (86-87) 58 recipients received their gold medals making a total of about 721 Gold Award Holders since 1961. Finally, taking part in the DEA enriches one's life. Why not join it and try to find your gold there!

Yeung Lit Tat F.7B

"When life means old age and sickness:"

Refusing to accept any medical help, an old woman fasted for seven days and died. This unprecedented (To my knowledge) incident shocked me when I saw it for the very first time.

Life is a mixture of laughter and tears; however, there seems to be no laughing matter at all in that poor widow's life. From the news, it is known that her husband left her nothing but a void inside her heart after he died while the one and only hope for the woman was her adapted son. Unfortunately, her son is mentally handicapped and did a lot of criminal acts only to break her mother's heart. All these tragedles accounted for her fasting.

In truth, committing suicide may be the only thing that she could do for herself. However, many controversial problems arose from her fasting to death: is it her human right to choose the road to death? Is it our human rights — other people — to stop her and save her? It is always difficult to decide between human rights and the need to save lives. It is necessary for Hong Kong to introduce a law legalising the right of forcing those patients who are mentally-sound to go to hospital? Will there be answers which can satisfy all?

After all, that miserable woman, just before her death, received some care and consolidation from her warm-hearted neighbours and eager-beavers albeit they were not enough to change her mind and her destiny — a destiny which may be good to her.

Suicides attempted by the uncared — for aged are becoming more and more common in recent years. According to the findings of some researches, the main reason for driving them so desperate is loneliness; especially if those people are illed. In fact, they can be regarded as the victims of the "cultural dilemmas" posed by Hong Kong's prosperity in recent years. To some, the idea of family ties is broken entirely. We seem to have lost our sense of community which is built on the ground of mutual concern, common understandings and feelings of obligation towards one another. Meanwhile, our society lack a geriatric policy and has failed to provide enough care and security to those who had past their prime and got no relatives to take care of. As a result, lives of some old people become so awful that even death is preferable.

In all, happy will be the days if all the people can choose their own ways to survive while nobody could be disturbed!

World Peace Is Going To Be Disrupted

It may be surprising that Men, who claim themselves to be the most intelligent creatures on earth, would one day do the most foolish act of self destruction.

The world of today is a world of fear. The threatening widespread fear of nuclear warfare leave a splint in the heart of everyone in the world. Some even say that the pressing of a single button would trigger the end of the world.

A huge number of nuclear missiles are ready to inflict damage in other continents so vast that a whole city would be reduced to dust and smoke in a flash. A nuclear war would mean the complete destruction of mankind and the beautiful earth would be turned into a dead planet.

Although I cannot deny that a country must defend herself against her enemies, it is very apparent that a true defence system should have no value for attack. The 'an eye for an eye' approach which has been adopted is surely not a cure for the problem, but only makes it worse. The SDI system under development in the U.S.A. has a high defence value, but many are doubtful if it can do great damage as well.

Many organizations have set the everlasting peace of the world as their ultimate goal. They put their greatest effort into this affair but no matter how loud they yell, the situation remains unchanged, until the day of self-destruction. The best example is perhaps the war still going on between Iran and Iraq.

Sometimes I read something about how much the latest missile costs, and I often ask myself this question, which has been raised many times by many people since the accidents, what if just a small fraction of this money were diverted from warfare to constructive fields like feeding the hungry and housing the homeless?

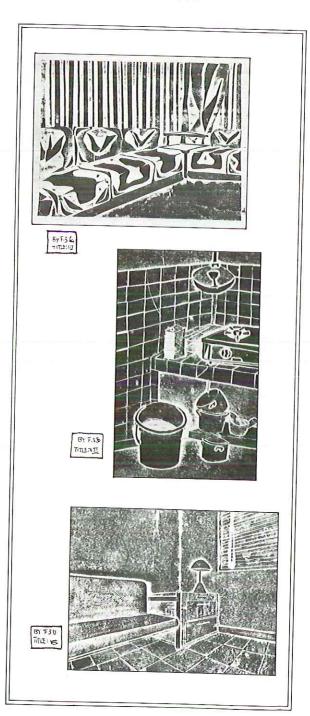

Firearms are surely unworthy investments. Despite the huge cost, famine and unhappiness result. People would lose their lives, their relatives and friends, their homes and wealth, and they would be hungry, sick, and even dying. I believe that no one is willing to be engaged in a war except those who initiate it.

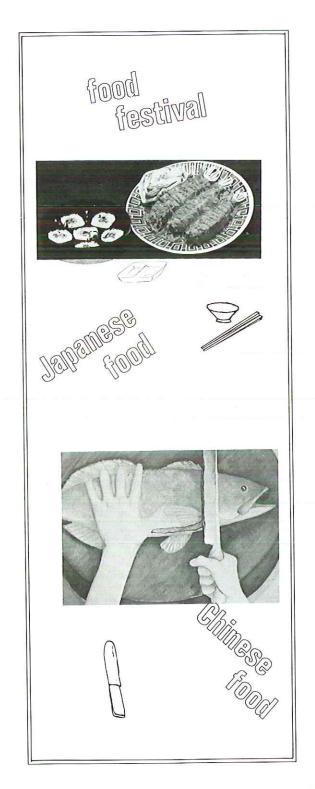

ART EXHIBITION 1988.

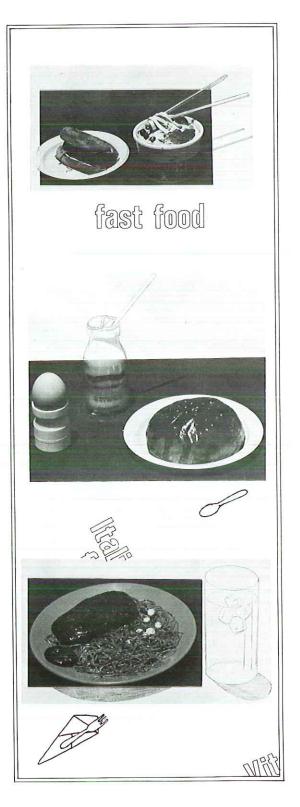

By F3A THE

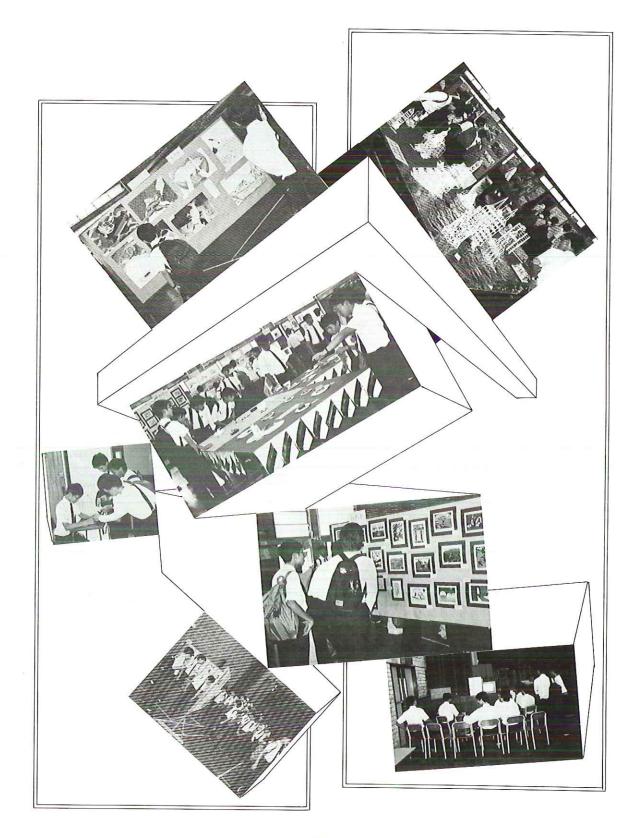

Date: 5-7th May

Place: Hall

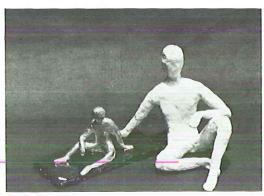

After the end of this magnificent art exhibition, we received a great deal of comments from the visitors. We are happy about this and will be looking for more in later exhibitions. Here are what we have summarized:

- * The exhibition still enjoyed success despite some drawbacks.

 Perhaps propaganda should be considered in more details —
 e.g. having a better poster, an introduction etc.
- * Consider the time of display so as to accommodate more visitors.
- * Poor arrangement of space ruined the good exhibits.

* There were two interesting features in the exhibition: CSK Food Festival and Crazy World. The former one included various kinds of fake food such as noodles, hotdog, roasted chicken and baked bread. All of them could really stimulate one's appetite. The latter one showed drawing of imagination beyond reality which brought the observers a fascinating sight of creative arts.

The Junior Choir was re-organised this academic year 87-88. Conducting a junior choir, to me, is a fresh experience. What's so peculiar about a junior choir?

The idea of a junior choir in a boy's school evokes a rather special connotation. Essentially, any boys who want to sing in a junior choir, should be equipped with treble voices. Boys having voice-breaking and man-voices would be completely out of the place. Another restriction put forward by the Hong Kong School Music Festival Committee is that they have to be under fifteen. As a result, a choir of junior boys equals more or less the same as a female choir in accoustic effect. Of course, the boys' sound is crystal clear and more pure.

This year, in the beginning of the term, we were able to recruit 41 members, out in the end only 37 of them represented the school in the Music Festival. They are fine treble choristers with a high sense of pitch and are fast-learners. I appreciate them very much. Especially, they achieved a better result in the Music Festival than in recent years. Their contribution and effort should be acknowledged.

Mainly from F.4 classes only, our members vary a lot from last year's intermediate choir which recruited members ranging from F.3 to F.5. Despite the fact that we have fewer voices than last year, still we have had an acceptable attendance rate in practising.

Our aims are to participate in the H.K. School Music Festival as well as to promote students' musical interest in our school. Furthermore, by means of setting up a choir, members not only can learn more about music and singing, such as song interpretation, tone colour, phrasing and articulation, voice and breath control, rhythm etc.; but also to a certain extent, to touch something about administrative and co-operative matters which can help them understand the importance of unity.

Finally, I would like to make use of this opportunity here to thank our choir boys especially those who have put conscientious effort into our practice. Above is the name list of those students who took part at the 40th H.K. Schools' Music Festival.

To achieve our aim of "Serving Society", our Group took part in various kinds of activities during this academic year.

In the past, we organized a project for the Form one students of our school. This year, too, we joined hands with the Community Youth Club and the Young Christian Students Movement as well as our social worker in organizing the project in early-November. It aimed at providing a chance for them to know more about the school through games and to create a sense of belonging amongst them.

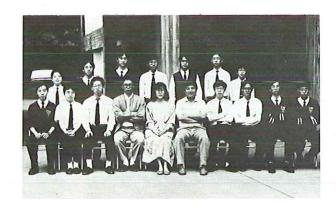

In late-December, we joined hands with the Citizens' Club of Diocesan Girls' School and the St. James' Settlement in organizing a Christmas gathering for the children in Wanchai. The main purposes were to provide an extra-curricular activity for them and to widen their horizons. In addition, the volunteers gained a lot of experience during the service. On the whole, it was a success and everyone had a happy holiday.

To further widen our horizons, we took part in various activities organized by the Hong Kong Federation of Youth Groups Hung Hom Youth Centre during this year, such as the Games Day on 21st February, '88 and the social service project during the Easter Holiday. Meanwhile, we have decided to expand our Group by leading one of the Volunteer Groups of the Centre after the opening of the new Hung Hom Youth Centre.

Mr. Wong Tang Tat

Amongst the number of school clubs and groups, it is not difficult to hear about the great achievements of the scout troop. But, do you know what we, the venture scouts, have carried out?

Ours is a service unit and our aim is to widen the views of our members not only in scouting but also in society. We try to attain this by providing our members with a variety of activities. One of these was 'Conjungere 87', a joint camp with 5th RGSU held at Tung Tze from 28th August to 30th August, 1987. It was a successful camp because it gave opportunity to strengthen our friendship and to exchange knowledge. A series of gatherings also took place, starting with the 'Orientation Meet' in late February, 1988. (It was a great success) since the 4th RGSU and the 77th RGSU also joined us.

Moreover, we have competed with other venture units in several contests. Our member, Chiu Wing Kin, won the third position in a cross-country race in the Prince of Wales' Competition this year. We actively participated in other events as well, such as drill and pioneering.

Finally, we would like to take this opportunity to express our gratitude to all those who have supported us. The venture unit is open to any CSK students who really want to coach themselves mentally and physically by participating in its attractive and dynamic programmes.

RGSU stands for Ranger Guide Service Unit.

CLIPORT

HONG KONG AIR CADET CORPS. NO.5 (C.S.K.) SQN.

The Hong Kong Air Cadets Corps was formed on 17th April, 1971. Our squadron — No. 5 (C.S.K.) Squadron — was formed on 12th April, 1980 with Chan Sui Ki (La Salle) College as our base.

The Corps is an aviation oriented, disciplined youth organization with the aims of providing aviation education to the youth of Hong Kong and to assist them to become potential future leaders of our society.

Our cadets attend regular meetings every Saturday. In the meetings, we receive footdrill training, aviation courses, outing skills and so on. Moveover, extra-curricular activities like hiking, wild camp, rifle shooting, visits, flying and canoeing are arranged for our members to participate in.

Other annual functions including Summer Camp, Aviation Camp, Air Show, Annual Parade, and Annual Ball are organised in order to establish friendship and external knowledge. Ambitious cadets also have a chance to show their ability in competitions such as Swimming Gala, Albatross award, Warrant Award, Basketball Competition, Athletics and so on. Furthermore, outstanding cadets have the opportunity to participate in the International Air Cadet Exchange Scheme.

In order to achieve further success, we will concern ourselves with the improvement of the standard of our cadets. We will provide more activities, and expand our squadron size.

Finally, we should like to give our whole heart thanks to Rev. Bro. Eugene for his support to our squadron.

Besides, the E.D.O.A. held a series of programmes for the four sections.

The former chairman, YEUNG Lit-tat, has reached gold standard. The award ceremony was held in Government House last summer.

Finally, we would like to take this opportunity to thank our teacher advisors, Bro. Rudolf and Mr. K.C. Cheung, for their invaluable advice and help; and also Mrs. LIU LEE Siu-ming and Mr. M.H.
